

Subject: Contractual Opportunities for Current or Retired Police Officers

Security and Protection International Inc. (SPI), a federally incorporated Canadian company, is seeking candidates who are available and willing to participate in the training in specific professional consulting assignments in Canada and across the globe. We are seeking to hire on a contractual basis current serving or retired Police officers who have experience both operational police experience and in the realm of training and professional development of foreign Police Officers from different rank levels and statute. We believe that retired police officers from your organization might be interested in an opportunity to offer their experience and expertise and be remunerated accordingly for their skills.

Enclosed are two contractual opportunities which we would like to share with you in our efforts to recruit current serving or retired police officers. The two opportunities differ in scope, in duration and in the type of assignment. One opportunity involves the training of Police Executives while the other involves the training of foreign Police Officers involved in VIP/Close-Protection of foreign dignitaries.

Your assistance is somewhat important to us. Because our needs are very specific, the only way we can identify and hire the right talent is by soliciting your assistance and making these opportunities known to your officers and retirees. We would be very grateful if you could post this opportunity on our behalf.

Police officers who are interested in an opportunity are invited to submit a letter of intent along with their resume to the undersigned. Additional information will be provided to interested candidates once their resume is received. We do appreciate your assistance in this regard and we wish to thank you for your cooperation. Questions, if any, can be addressed to the undersigned.
